Margaux's Chris

With all this Covid nonsense and exams arriving soon, it is needed to ignore all your responsibilities and wear your coziest Christmas pajamas, with a burning hot chocolate, and to cuddle up in bed to watch a cheesy Christmas movie. This little guide will help you decide which movie to watch next depending on who you are with and your mood. Enjoy and Merry Christmas!

Home Alone

Genre: Comedy, classic

Year: 1990

Grade: 4.5/5 stars

For whom: A classic for everyone, you can watch it as a family, and everyone will enjoy it.

Famous quote: "Give this to Kevin... Kevin's not here... KEVIN!"

When Kevin acts out the night before a family Christmas trip to Paris, his mother makes him sleep in the attic. He is an arrogant kid who hates the fact that he has a big family who bullies him. After his family leaves for the airport without him, he awakens to an empty house and assumes his wish to have no family has come true. But his excitement sours when he realizes that two con men plan to rob his house and that he must protect the family home by himself.

Krampus

Genre: Horror

Year: 2015

Grade: 3/5 stars

For whom: It is a scary and creepy movie but it does have some noteworthy messages so it would be appropriate for 13 years old and up.

Famous quote: "I haven't had a hangover like this since the Pope died."

While the holiday season represents the most magical time of the year, ancient European folklore warns of Krampus, a horned beast who punishes naughty children at Christmas time. When a dysfunctional family causes young Max to lose his festive spirit, it unleashes the wrath of the fearsome demon. As Krampus lays siege to the Engel home, the family must band together to save one another from the monster.

Christmas Movie Guide

Love Actually

Genre: Romance, comedy

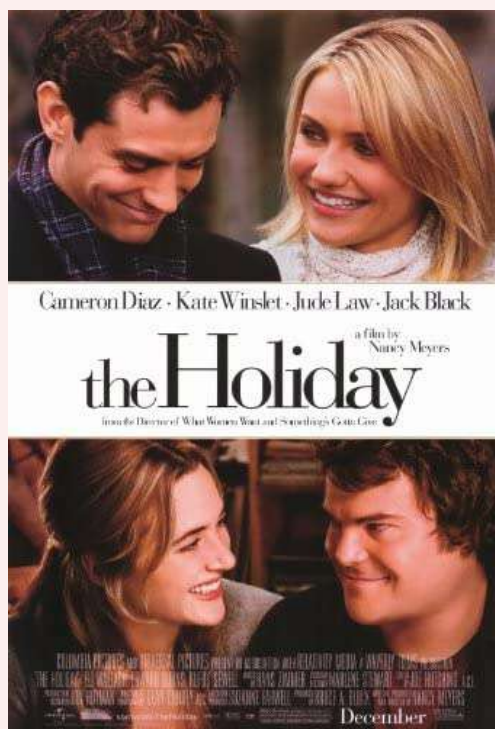

Year: 2003

Grade: 4.5/5

For whom: For everyone who loves love and cliché romance movies. You'll laugh and cry at the same time! Extra recommended for couples!

Famous quote: "To me, you are perfect"

Nine intertwined stories examine the complexities of the one emotion that connects us all: love. Among the characters explored are David, the handsome newly elected British prime minister who falls for a young junior staffer, Sarah, a graphic designer whose devotion to her mentally ill brother complicates her love life, and Harry, a married man tempted by his attractive new secretary.

The Holiday

Genre: Comedy, Romance

Year: 2006

Grade: 3.5/5

For whom: Once again, for everyone who loves love and cliché romance movies but with a twist! Extra recommended for couples!

Famous quote: "If you were a melody... I used only the good notes."

Dumped and depressed, Iris, who is from England, agrees to swap homes with similarly unlucky in love Californian Amanda for a much-needed break. Iris finds herself in a palatial Hollywood mansion while Amanda navigates the lanes of a picture-perfect English village. Soon enough, both lovelorn ladies bump into local lads perfect for a romantic pick-me-up.

Kiss Kiss Bang Bang

Genre: Comedy, crime

Year: 2005

Grade: 3.5/5

For whom: This is not a family movie as there is a lot of nudity and graphic violence. It is recommended for 17 year olds and up who are a fan of dark comedy and adventure.

Famous quote: "Go. Sleep badly. Any questions, hesitate to call."

After being mistaken for an actor, a thief is sent to Hollywood to train under a private eye for a potential movie role, but the duo is thrown together with a struggling actress into a murder mystery.

The Nightmare Before Christmas

Genre: Animation, Fantasy

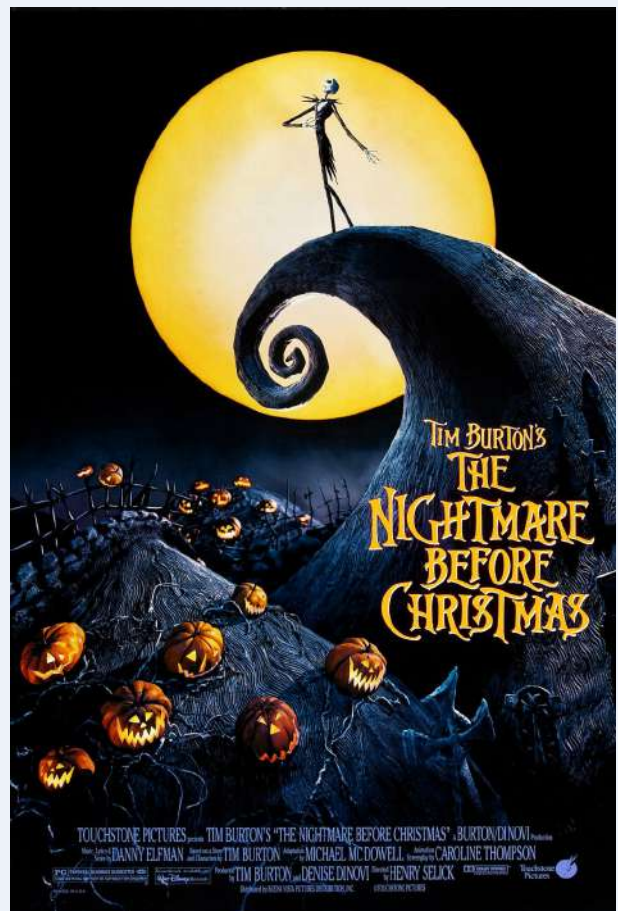

Year: 1993

Grade: 5/5

For whom: A classic family Christmas movie

Famous quote: "There's children throwing snowballs, instead of throwing heads. They're busy building toys, and absolutely no one's dead!"

The film follows the misadventures of Jack Skellington, Halloween town's beloved pumpkin king, who has become bored with the same annual routine of frightening people in the "real world." When Jack accidentally stumbles on Christmas town, all bright colors, and warm spirits, he gets a new lease on life -- he plots to bring Christmas under his control by kidnapping Santa Claus and taking over the role. But Jack soon discovers even the best-laid plans of mice and skeleton men can go seriously wrong.

Gremlins

Genre: Horror, comedy, fantasy

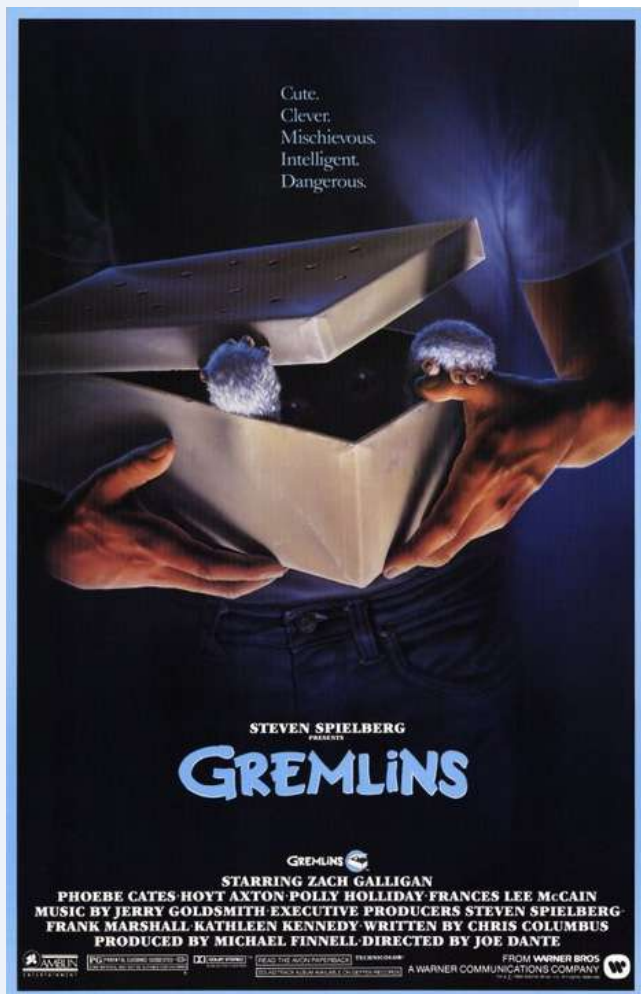

Year: 1984

Grade: 5/5

For whom: This movie is originally aimed at kids but beware, as there are a lot of scary scenes that can traumatize a kid younger than 10 years old (trust me, I am talking from experience). As an adult, this movie is still fun and somewhat scary. After all, it is still a classic so I definitely recommend it for everyone older than 10!

Famous quote: "First of all, keep him out of the light, he hates bright light, especially sunlight, it'll kill him. Second, don't give him any water, not even to drink. But the most important rule, the rule you can never forget, no matter how much he cries, no matter how much he begs, never feed him after midnight."

A gadget salesman is looking for a special gift for his son and finds one at a store in Chinatown. The shopkeeper is reluctant to sell him the 'mogwai' but sells it to him with the warning to never expose him to bright light, water, or to feed him after midnight. All of this happens, and the result is a gang of gremlins that decide to tear up the town on Christmas Eve.

Edward Scissorhands

Genre: Fantasy, romance

Year: 1990

Grade: 4/5

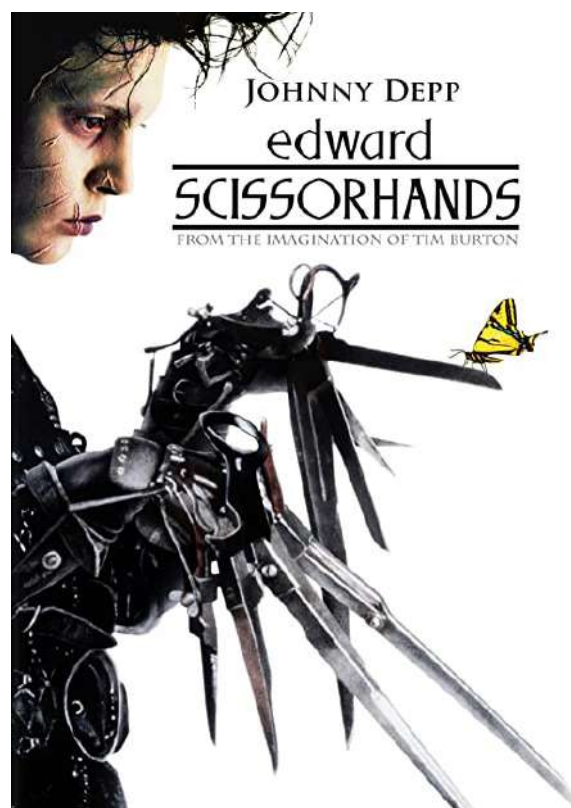

For whom: PG-13 as there is sexuality and violence in the movie but the themes of the film, such as self-discovery and isolation, are also interesting for teens. Extra recommended for couples!

Famous quote:

Kim: "Hold me."

Edward: "I can't."

A scientist builds an animated human being -- the gentle Edward. The scientist dies before he can finish assembling Edward, though, leaving the young man with a freakish appearance accentuated by the scissor blades he has instead of hands. Loving Peg discovers Edward and takes him home, where he falls for Peg's teen daughter. However, despite his kindness and artistic talent, Edward's hands make him an outcast.

Polar Express

Genre: Animation, adventure and comedy

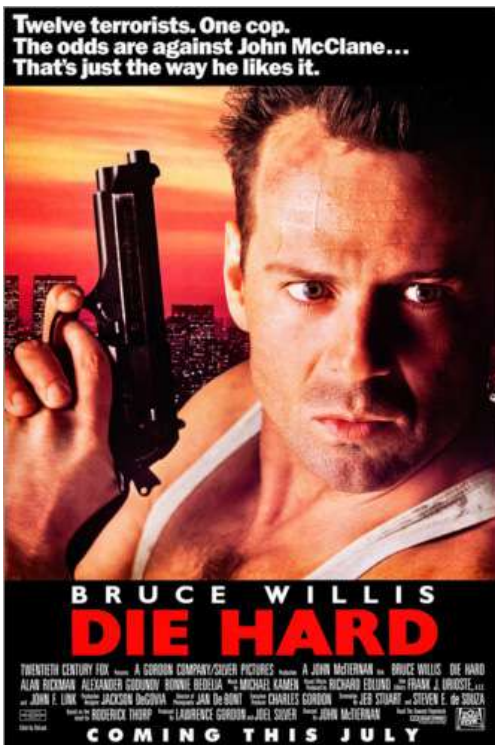

Year: 2004

Grade: 4.5/5

For whom: Everyone who loves the magic of Christmas, the innocence of believing, and movies with a lot of deeper and hidden messages.

Famous quote: "Seeing is believing, but sometimes the most real things in the world are the things we can't see."

When a skeptical young boy takes an extraordinary train ride to the North Pole, he embarks on a journey of self-discovery that shows him that the wonder of life never fades for those who believe.

Die Hard

Genre: Action, thriller

Year: 1988

Grade: 4.5/5

For whom: Recommended for adults who love heroic and violent movies.

Famous quote: "I am an exceptional thief, Mrs. McClane. And since I'm moving up to kidnapping, you should be more polite"

New York City policeman John McClane is visiting his estranged wife and two daughters on Christmas Eve. He joins her at a holiday party in the headquarters of the Japanese-owned business she works for. But the festivities are interrupted by a group of terrorists who take over the exclusive high-rise, and everyone in it. Very soon McClane realizes that there's no one to save the hostages -- but him.

A Christmas Carol

Genre: Animation, adventure and comedy

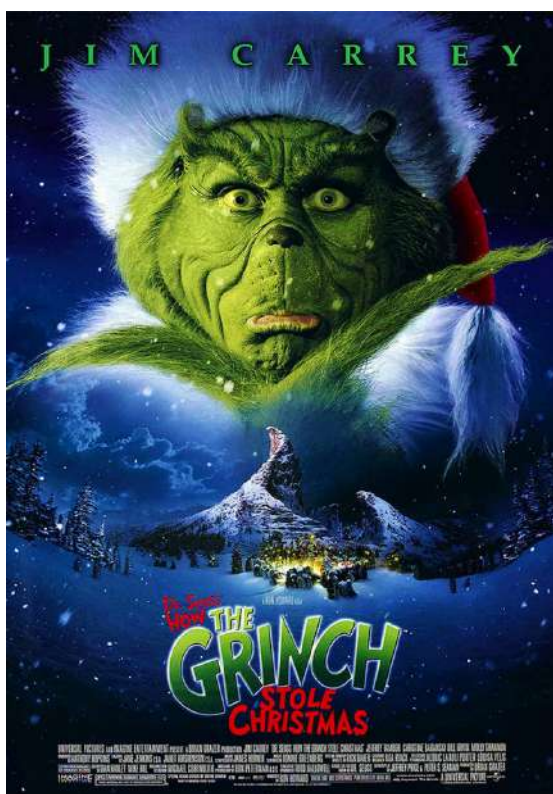

Year: 2009

Grade: 4/10

For whom: A movie for every age. However, adults might understand deeper messages in the story of Scrooge such as greed, forgiveness, and tricky concepts of time. A fun movie that will make you think as well.

Famous quote: "You will be haunted by three spirits." Scrooge: "I'd rather not."

Miser Ebenezer Scrooge is awakened on Christmas Eve by spirits who reveal to him his own miserable existence, what opportunities he wasted in his youth, his current cruelties, and the dire fate that awaits him if he does not change his ways. Scrooge is faced with his own story of growing bitterness and meanness and must decide what his own future will hold: death or redemption.

Dr. Seuss' How the Grinch Stole Christmas

Genre: Comedy, fantasy

Year: 2000

Grade: 3/5

For whom: A movie that will remind you how Christmas is more than just presents and food, but that it is indeed all about the Christmas spirit. A movie recommended for every age.

Famous quote: "MAX HELP ME, I'M FEELING"

The reclusive green Grinch decides to ruin Christmas for the cheery citizens of Whoville. Reluctantly joined by his hapless dog, Max, the Grinch comes down from his mountaintop home and sneaks into town to swipe everything holiday-related from the Whos. However, the bitter grump finds a hitch in his plans when he encounters the endearing Cindy Lou Who.

SKITRIP

Industria goes skiing during the course-free week! We have missed this amazing activity enormously after a long period in which this was not possible. This year we are going to St. François Longschamp and with its 165 km of breath taking ski slopes, will this area be our new home for a week. The ski team is already looking forward to giving you the best ski trip ever!

Friday evening, 4 February, is finally the day we leave for the French Alps. From then on you can leave the much too long exam period behind you and enjoy an unforgettable time. But what does a week like this look like exactly? First of all, there are 165 km of slopes that are suitable for both more and less experienced skiers and snowboarders. Of course, skiing is not the only reason we descend to the Alps for. After a day on the slopes, it is time for a well-deserved après-ski! But this is not the only thing the ski team has in store for you. Throughout the week we organise other side activities such as gin sledding, a cosy cantus and a big air. What is certainly not to be forgotten is that in addition to all these activities, we are only too happy to pass along free drinks!

IFB

Join Us

The IFB stands for “Interfacultaire Beker” or “Interfaculty cup”. It is a sports tournament between different faculties in Leuven. The tournament starts in November and continues until March. Each team starts in the poule phase. In this phase, all teams are divided into poules, each consisting of 4 teams. The goal is to collect as many points as possible. For each win, the team earns 3 points and in case of a draw, both teams earn 1 point. Finally, the team, from each poule, with the most amount of points, will then advance to the final.

The IFB is an excellent opportunity to do some exercise, meet new people and show the other faculties just how outstanding we industrial engineers are!

So if you are interested in playing for a team, you can go on Facebook and first follow Industria’s sports account: Industria Sport. Secondly, you follow the Facebook page of the respective sport: IFB + the sport+ 2021-2022. For example, for women’s indoor soccer: IFB zaalvoetbal vrouwen(futsal women) 2021-2022. Since enrollments were a couple of weeks ago, make sure to send a message to the person responsible for the team to be added to the list.

The Teams

We have 5 teams: a basketball team , a volleyball team , a field soccer team and 2 teams of indoor soccer.

If you have any questions feel free to email Sport Industria at sport@industria.be Industria also organizes training to improve our chances of winning against the other faculties. The goal of the training sessions is to help you improve your technique and communication within the team. The training sessions are organized for each team by the team responsible.

Whether you are on the team or a supporter we hope to see you at the next games!!!!

Team Events

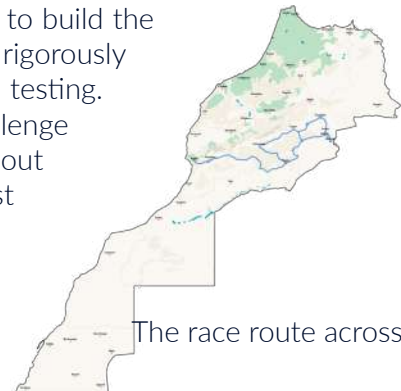

Solar Team Agoria

Every 2 years, engineering students from all faculties team up to build the ultimate solar car from scratch. For 15 months, they work on it rigorously where 12 of those are for building and designing and 3 for testing. After that, the car should be ready to perform! The World Solar Challenge is in Australia and involves going 3000km from north to south. About 50 teams usually participate, and Agoria Solar Team won the last edition making them world champions. However, it was cancelled last summer because of the pandemic. Instead, the team found a new competition to participate in, and it was in Morocco. This time the race is 2500km and involves 5 stages; about 500 km each. Unique about the Solar Challenge in Morocco are the many climbs and hills that formed an additional challenge, as the route passed along the Atlas mountain range. Each stage takes about ~8 hours, and after that, the team repairs the solar car and reevaluate the driving strategy for the next day. The Belgian team managed to win the first and last stages of the challenge, but ended in second place overall with the Solar Team from Twente (Netherlands) taking home the trophy.

The race route across morocco

The solar car upcross many cities and villages which had to be informed earlier to avoid trouble, something no one had to worry about in Australia.

How to Join

Every year in January, the solar team recruitment takes place. To join, firstly, you must have a bachelor's degree in engineering studies (engineering technology, engineering science or business engineering). Secondly, you must show that you are motivated. Joining the solar team requires dedication and commitment as long hours of work must be put in, and, of course, one must be passionate about the project. Grades do not play a role as big as the aforementioned factors, but recruits must have somewhat decent scores. Every applicant will have a chance to prove themselves. New recruits will be taught most of the things they need to know, so don't worry if you think you don't have what it takes.

More information about the next recruitment can be found on www.solarteam.be/recruitment.

The Team Structure

The team consists of three departments: mechanics, energy, and marketing. The mechanics department were responsible for the shape of the solar car, making it as aerodynamic as possible using thousands of simulations. They also take care of the suspension and steering systems and make sure everything can be produced in a strong and lightweight manner. There was also the energy department; they make sure solar panels are in order, the battery of the solar car and the self-built electromotor and take care of all low voltage electronics (dashboard, communication, lights, connections...). The marketing department's job is usually revolved around financing, publicity, and sponsoring.

Solar Car

Probably the most interesting aspect of this article is the car: the thing that had taken almost 2 years' worth of work, thought, effort, and sweat. The car uses carbon as its main component which makes it light and durable. Its shape is also something that must be carefully chosen as there are a lot of factors that must be considered, such as weight, aerodynamics, solar and mechanical efficiency. Each sub-team (aerodynamics, structural, mechanical, energy) has its own criteria which has to be fulfilled, and that makes choosing the final design difficult. For the Morocco race, the team went for a bullet design with just three wheels, to reduce air resistance effectively minimalizing the power consumption. Other aspects of the car are very heavily researched as well; most notably, the solar panel, the battery and motor. The car has a top speed of 150 km/h, weighs 170 kg and has a motor efficiency of 98%(motor built from scratch). The solar panel has an area of 4 m², and the battery has an autonomy of 700 kilometers.

Dear fellow students,

Are you interested in aerospace? Are you reaching the end of your academic career, and do you want to gain some experience working on an exciting team project? If so, then the Aether student team is for you! We are working on the design, building and eventual launch of our very own CubeSat nano-satellite. Our satellite will be designed to withstand the dangerous return through the atmosphere and land safely back on Earth, so in short: a re-entry CubeSat. In order to do this, we need a broad range of skills: we are looking for mechanical engineers, electrical engineers, computer scientists, material scientists, ... Building a satellite is a true multi-disciplinary project!

Aether exists within the 'Tech Innovations in Ventures and Teams' postgraduate program. Besides working on a satellite, this program will support you in developing your entrepreneurship and professional skills, building and maintaining relationships with partners, looking for sponsors, organizing events, ...

We would like to create a space for students passionate about aerospace to find each other and build something great together. So, if this postgraduate program doesn't immediately excite you, but you would still like to help us, then there is definitely room for you at Aether!
